Expertise in the setting up and management of European projects
Campus France

Over the past fifteen years Campus France has acquired an international reputation for expertise in the setting up and management of projects funded by the European Union. The Agency has developed an international network of partners, and as such has coordinated and participated in a large number of actions alongside its European counterparts, French and European higher education institutions and research bodies.

The Agency:

- Is an integral part of the French diplomatic network
- Is supported by the worldwide network of Campus France offices
- Uses different professional skills (promotion, management of mobility programmes, hosting services, studies, online communication, etc.)
- Participates in leading international events (G7/G20, EAIE, NAFSA...)
- Supports projects led by French and European institutions

Campus France is regularly consulted by the Directorate General for education and culture of the European Commission on higher education promotion and internationalisation strategies.

Study in Europe

Enhancing the attractiveness of European Higher Education

The Study in Europe project, led by Campus France, aims at reinforcing Europe’s visibility as a study destination for international students.

The project’s activities include the organisation of twelve European student fairs (virtual and physical), the management of the Study in Europe portal, the implementation of an integrated communication campaign, particularly on social media, as well as the organisation of webinars and events to support networking and the exchange of best practice amongst European higher education promotion agencies.

EU4Dialogue

Improving exchanges across the divide through education and culture

Campus France is part of a European consortium implementing the education and culture strand of EU4Dialogue, a European initiative aiming at the transformation of unresolved conflicts in four countries in the Eastern Partnership region.

Campus France is mainly involved in different higher education activities of EU4Dialogue, such as a pilot project for student mobility to Europe, the organisation of a study visit and capacity building events and supporting networking.
An example of a project funded by the European Union is the HOPES-LEB project. HOPES-LEB stands for Higher and Further Education Opportunities and Perspectives for Syrians and vulnerable youth in Lebanon. Together with its European partners, the German Academic Exchange Service - DAAD (coordinator) and NUFFIC, Campus France is in charge of implementing the second phase of the HOPES project.

HOPES-LEB aims at improving livelihood prospects for vulnerable Lebanese youth and refugees from Syria in Lebanon, through higher education opportunities and scholarships. Campus France is notably in charge of the communication and networking activities, as well as the animation of an alumni network in the region.

Campus France is a member of the consortium led by the GIP-FCIP (Académie de Martinique) which is carrying out the ELAN project, financed by the European Union’s INTERREG Caribbean programme.

ELAN stands for Linguistic Exchanges and Innovative Learning through Mobility. Campus France seeks to improve foreign language skills and facilitate access to higher education, student mobility, training and school exchange programmes within the Caribbean region. The project’s main objectives are to reinforce young persons’ skills in order to improve their access to the labour market, to enhance the attractiveness of the region’s territories and finally, to promote a shared Caribbean identity as the basis for an efficient and sustainable regional integration.
Placed under the supervision of the Ministries responsible for foreign affairs and higher education and research, the main missions of Campus France are the promotion of French higher education overseas, the hosting of international students in France and the management of scholarship programmes.
