

PLUS EVEN MORE INFORMATION FROM CAMPUS FRANCE

Field-of-study profiles

Downloadable when searching by discipline, field-of-study profiles provide complete information on the degrees and specializations available in a specific field, along with key figures, useful links, and distinctive aspects of France's role in that field (agriculture, athletics, engineering, fashion, historic preservation, law, nursing—you name it!).

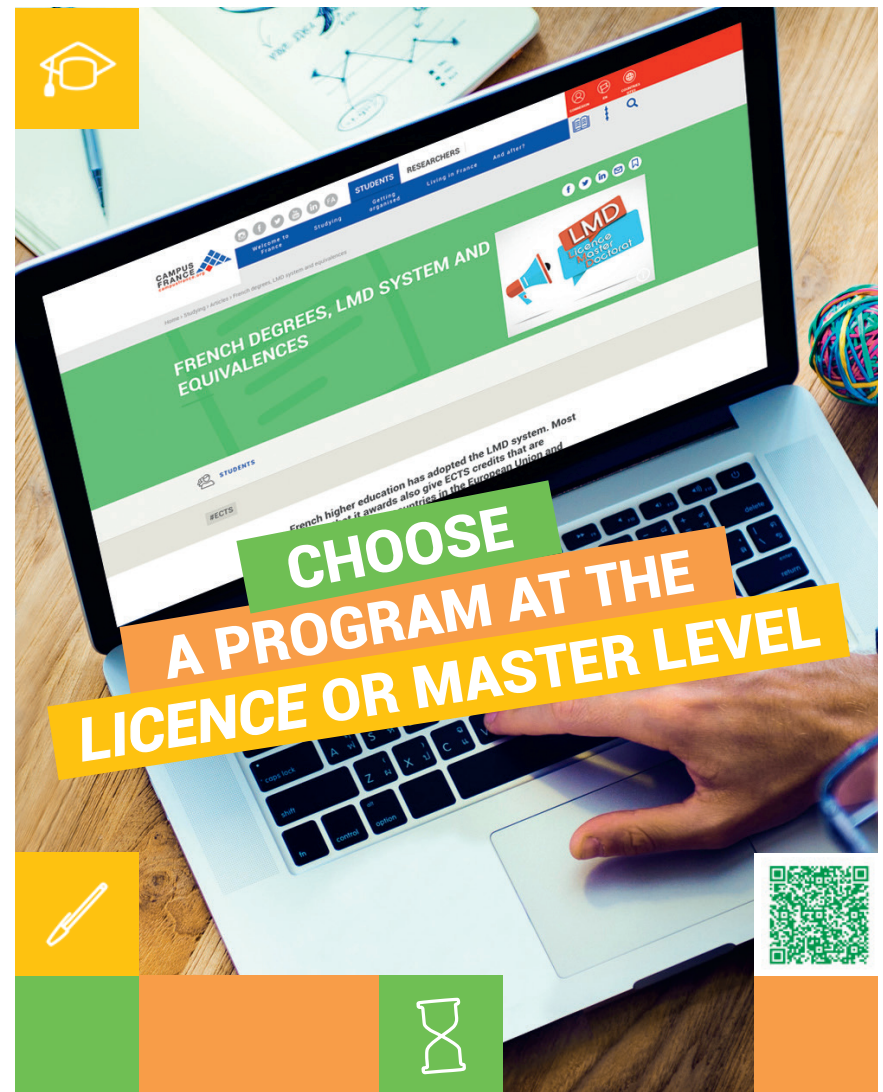

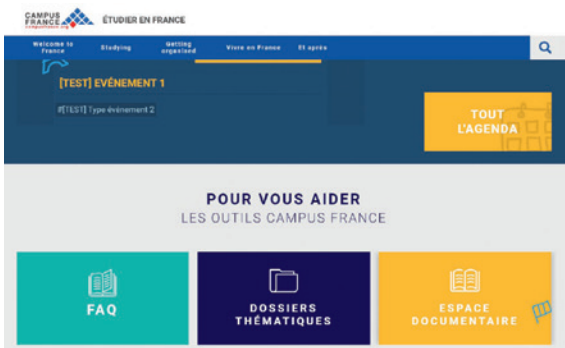

The Campus France website also offers detailed information on specific degrees by academic level and field. Briefs on each type of degree can be downloaded from the resources center of the site.

Institutional profiles

Downloadable when searching by program, these profiles introduce the institution offering a particular program: its curriculum, strong points, international activities, contact information for international students.

Many of the institutional profiles are complemented by descriptions of the student-support services made available by the institution.
