

TÉLÉCOM SUDPARIS

The 'Bienvenue en France' Label is awarded to higher education institutions that develop quality-driven services for international students. Such services include comprehensive information, orientation and welcome services, tutoring, campus life, as well as post-graduate support. In addition, a proven commitment to sustainable development and social and environmental responsibility must be provided.

Télécom SudParis is a leading public engineering school recognised at the highest level of digital science and technology. The quality of its courses is based on the scientific excellence of its teaching staff and a teaching approach that emphasises team projects, disruptive innovation and entrepreneurship.

Télécom SudParis has 1,000 students, including 700 engineering students and around a hundred doctoral students. Télécom SudParis is part of the Institut Mines-Télécom, France's leading engineering school group.

The school is located on two campuses: in Evry-Courcouronnes, with IMT-BS, and in Palaiseau with Télécom Paris. Télécom SudParis is a member school of the Institut Polytechnique de Paris (IP Paris), a science and technology institute with a worldwide remit that includes the École polytechnique, ENSTA Paris, ENSAE Paris and Télécom Paris.
