The Leonardo da Vinci group in Paris is composed of three high quality accredited degrees. These schools include EMLV (Business School), ESILV (Engineering School) and IIM (School of Web Design and Multimedia). The various subjects taught on a campus create a highly interdisciplinary atmosphere which reflects on program content. Pedagogical objectives are important to all stakeholders and partners companies in the world. Students studying engineering, management, and design learn to live and work together and go beyond their own limits. The Learning Center, The FabLab, areas located throughout the campus, Incubator, and many more. Thanks to these resources more than 5000 students working on their professional life.

◆ MAIN PROGRAMMES OF STUDY

ESILV
Grande Ecole
- Computer Science, Big Data and Connected Objects
- Financial engineering
- Digital mechanics and modeling
- New energies
- EMLV:
  - Grande Ecole
    - Digital marketing
    - Marketing Innovation and Distribution
    - Corporate Finance
    - Audit and Performance Management
    - MSc
    - International Business
    - Innovation Management and Strategy
    - MBA
    - Digital Marketing strategy

◆ RESEARCH
4 research groups - Devinci Research Center (DVRC)
- The Business Group combines expertise from research professors in marketing, human resources, and entrepreneurial strategy.
- The Digital Group includes the broadcasting of digital uses, Big Data, predictive marketing, artificial intelligence, robotics, smart objects and virtual technology.
- The Finance Group covers a variety of topics including applied mathematics, financial econometrics, asset valuation, portfolio management, business finance, and ethics.
- The Modelization Group consists of the study of mathematics and digital models from mathematics, physics, and computer science.

◆ STRENGTHS
- Teaching in small groups, blended learning
- Cutting edge equipment: FabLab, Incubator, Bloomberg trading room, Learning Center
- International environment and English tracks
- Companies centred in the programs
- A campus with four schools - programs in common, double degrees in entrepreneurship and finance. Latest double degree Engineer / Manager
- Possibility to do a Master and the double degree in parallel
- Sports integrated with the program
- Associative life combined with the other schools on campus
- A Global Network of Partner Universities, strong links with companies
- Arts and culture are the core topics at EMLV. The aim is to generate a discovery of intellectual curiosity among the students
- A tailored program based on the skills and personal objective of the students
- The community life, valued and supervised, shared with the other campus establishments
- Generalist training focused on the digital technologies
- Companies at the heart of the training
- The possibility to access a rich and varied offer in double French and international diplomas

◆ LOCATION
The modern campus is next to the Great Arch, located in the heart of Paris-La Defense, the largest European business district.

http://www.devinci.fr/en/