SORBONNE UNIVERSITÉ

Sorbonne University is a multidisciplinary, research-intensive and world-class academic institution that lies in downtown Paris. It is committed to the success of its students and aims at meeting the scientific challenges of the 21st century. 6,700 faculty and researchers and 4,900 administrative and technical staff members contribute to a University that is diverse, creative, innovative, and open to the world. The Faculty of Arts & Humanities is committed to the transmission of a humanist culture. It offers a wide range of courses in the fields of literature, languages, civilizations, arts, humanities and social sciences. The Faculty of Medicine trains future physicians and health professionals from the first year of health studies through hospital internships and specialisation. The faculty also provides paramedical training: speech therapy, psychomotricity and orthoptics. There is also a midwifery school on the Saint-Antoine campus. The Faculty of Science and Engineering provides courses in mathematics, physics, chemistry, biology, geosciences, mechanics, computer science and electronics. Research-based teaching in bachelor's and master's programs is enriched by close partnerships with the French national research organisations.
