CHOOSE FRANCE
Postsecondary degrees in France are attuned to the common European system: bachelor (known in France as the licence), master, and doctorate. The system is based on the number of years or semesters successfully completed since secondary school. With each period completed, the student earns a certain number of “ECTS credits.”

*ECTS, the European Credit Transfer and Accumulation System, is a system of cumulable academic credits transferable throughout Europe. One year represents 60 ECTS credits.

www.european-funding-guide.eu/articles/financing-tips/erasmus-having-your-credits-recognised International students may apply for admission to a French institution of higher education at any point in the curriculum, provided they meet the admission requirements.

A dynamic system of higher education
The richness and diversity of French higher education ensure that any student can find a program closely suited to his or her needs, plans, and dreams.
Learn more at the nearest Campus France office.

Campus France provides personal assistance in more than 250 locations in over 120 countries.

"Studying in France made my dream come true"

Discover Sandra’s story
Use our search engines to get the details you need...

Study in English: Yes, 1,500 programs in France are taught in English http://taughtie.campusfrance.org

Learn French
http://ecolesdete.campusfrance.org

Get detailed information on programs at the bachelor and master levels http://cataloguelm.campusfrance.org/master/#/catalog

Explore research opportunities in France https://doctorat.campusfrance.org/en/phd/dschools/main

Finance your studies
http://campusbourses.campusfrance.org

Apply online to programs in art, architecture, and fashion
www.campusart.org
World-class student services
The “Bienvenue en France” seal was developed by Campus France to signify excellence in student-support services.

Simplified visa procedures

Differentiated tuition fees for students from outside the European Union

More opportunities to study French as a foreign language

A large and growing array of academic programs taught in English

France Alumni, the network of former international students in France, advances your career development from the moment you arrive in France. It also helps you maintain links with France after you graduate and return home. Learn more about France Alumni and its 320,000 members: www.francealumni.fr/en

Learn more at www.campusfrance.org